

ASH[®] VISITOR TRAINING PROGRAM

This ASH Training award is designed for hematologists and hematology-related healthcare professionals from low- to upper-middle income countries.

- Train with an ASH member mentor anywhere in the world for up to 12 weeks in a specific topic or technique.
- Work with your mentor to craft a targeted program that meets the needs at your home institution.
- Receive funding for your travel, accommodations, and daily living expenses for the duration of your training.
- Implement the skills you learn to improve hematology patient care at your institution.

To learn more about eligibility requirements or to apply for this program, please visit www.hematology.org/VTP.

